The President's Report

& Honor Roll of Donors '75-'76 • Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va.

Introduction

The future of our society depends in no small measure upon the continued health and strength of private higher education within America's dual system of higher education. In my opinion, the need for the relatively small liberal arts college striving toward Christian idealism has never been greater. It is with a deep sense of pride in the accomplishments of Bridgewater's alumni, students, faculty and staff, trustees, and supportive constituency that I present this annual report.

On behalf of all of us at Bridgewater, I wish to express heartfelt gratitude for the substantial investments of so many friends in the program and future of Bridgewater College. The College is looking toward 1980, the year of its centennial. Our First Century Completion Fund — 8 by '80, announced in April of 1975, is designed to bring the College to the eve of its centennial in a position of academic and financial strength as well as to provide needed improvements in physical facilities. While this appropriate and strategic development program is making excellent progress, having now reached the $2,300,000 mark, it is obvious that it will continue to demand the dedicated efforts of all participants in the life of Bridgewater College.

As a private co-educational, church-affiliated, liberal arts college, Bridgewater invites you and all others who share our purposes to invest in Bridgewater's continuing service to mankind.

Enrollment in the fall of 1975 was 804—399 women and 405 men—from 14 states, the District of Columbia, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, India, South Korea, Thailand, and Guyana. By classes the enrollment included 249 freshmen, 210 sophomores, 164 juniors, and 158 seniors. In addition, there were 19 special and part-time students, and four others studied under the Brethren Colleges Abroad program during the year.

The geographic origin of students in the 1975-76 academic year follows:

Virginia .....	512	West Virginia .....	9
Maryland .....	135	New York .....	7
Pennsylvania .....	53	Other states, foreign
New Jersey .....	45	countries, and the District
Delaware .....	17	of Columbia .....	16
Florida .....	10

Academic Honors

One hundred forty-six students received bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees in commencement exercises May 31. Twenty-one graduated in August. This number compares with 174 receiving degrees in May of 1975 and 13 at the end of summer school in August. Three students graduated with highest honors, summa cum laude, with quality point averages of 3.8 or better: Dena R. Hixon, Hancock, Md.; Susan Kay Moore, Phillipsburg, N.J.; and Barbara Ann Wilson, Randallstown, Md. Ms. Wilson completed her four years with a perfect 4.0 average. Fourteen graduated magna cum laude (3.5 or better) and twelve graduated cum laude (3.2).

Music

The College's concert choir, under the direction of Professor Philip Trout, culminated its spring season by performing the beautiful and moving anthem, "The Heavens Are Telling," by Haydn for baccalaureate and the spiritual, "Sweet Canaan," for commencement. This year the choir toured Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland during weekends in the spring.

Another musical group, the 50-member concert band under the direction of Professor Thomas R. Thornley, Jr., gave two performances on campus and played for baccalaureate and commencement.

The smaller jazz-lab stage band, also under Professor

Thornley's leadership, played throughout the year for college functions, for high schools and elementary schools, and for other events including those held at the Hagerstown Church of the Brethren, Longwood College, and WVPT-TV, the Shenandoah Valley Educational Television Station. The concerts were well received, both for the variety of music performed and for musicianship.

The chorale, a select group of upperclass students under the direction of Professor W. Clifton Pritchett, gave programs for college, school, and civic groups during the year. These talented singers are always in demand, and their music is enjoyed by all age groups.

Drama and Forensics

The Pinion Players this year featured two American plays in honor of the Bicentennial. Harvey, by Mary Chase, was given in the fall and Thornton Wilder's enduring favorite, Our Town, in the spring.

The student-sponsored Colonial Dinner at Christmas time was enriched by three Revolutionary-era satirical sketches. Then, on two evenings in January, three plays by American dramatists were directed by students for the campus community. Dorothy Parker's Here We Are, Tad Mosel's Impromptu, and George S. Kaufman's The Still Alarm, were directed by Andrea Steppe, '76, Jennie Hommel, '79, and Paul Carson, '77.

The Forensics Club met each Monday evening in the dining hall where each member gave an after-dinner speech. Members participated in forensics and debate tournaments in Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. In April, club members presented a convocation program in which they demonstrated various forms of forensic activities. Five members of the group appeared in a Readers' Theater drama, "The Judgment," telecast over WVPT-TV during the Easter season.

Volunteer Activities

More than 100 students were involved in a Response to World Hunger project during the Lenten season, fasting one or more times during the five weeks of the project. A total of $882, generated by the students, was given to CROP for the relief of the hungry around the globe. Combined with the fast were study sessions on the many aspects of world hunger which sensitized the campus and community to the problem and were educational in the perspectives they provided.

Student volunteers expressed their concern for others in many helpful ways during the year. A team of students led by Sharon Butterbaugh, instructor in home economics, traveled to New Windsor, Maryland, for a weekend, sorting and processing clothing for relief distribution. A class in leadership recreation, taught by Melvin Myers, assistant professor of physical education, led recreational activities for the senior citizens at the Bridgewater Home. Other students also volunteered their time to visit with the residents at the Home. On six Saturday mornings during the spring, health and physical education majors led a recreation program for elementary students at the college gymnasium. Students also worked with the Bridgewater Rescue Squad and assisted various charitable organizations in fund-raising efforts.

Student deputation teams visited more than 20 churches during the school year — leading worship services, providing special music, and teaching church school classes. Eight students held positions under the Earn and Serve and the Christian Experience Scholarship programs during the summer of 1976 working as camp counselors, youth directors, and as assistants to pastors.

Interterm

Each year unique and unusual learning experiences are offered during the three-week interterm period in late February and early March. This past year was no exception. Students visited archeological and pre-historical sites in Mexico, studied the economy of Great Britain, and toured European sites related to the history of science. Off campus trips in the U.S. included an historical and literary tour of New England, a study of law enforcement procedures with the police department of Orlando, Florida, a study of congressional lawmaking in Washington, D.C., a tour of Civil War sites, and visits to places of interest in Church of the Brethren history. These courses were but a few of those offered both on and off campus that provided varied and interesting firsthand learning experiences for both students and faculty.

Athletics

In athletic activity during the year, senior flanker C. J. DeWitt was named to the Kodak College Division III All-American Team, which was selected by the American Football Coaches Association. C. J. finished the season as the nation's Division III leading receiver, catching 64 passes for 836 yards during the season. The young team finished the season with a 2-7 record.

The cross country team ended its season with a 4-3 record and finished third in the Virginia College Athletic Association. With only two members being lost through graduation, a sizeable group of underclassmen form the nucleus for an experienced team.

The track team finished the season with an unblemished 8-0 in dual meets. Alvin Younger led the team individually with a total of 62 1/2 points; however, with 15 men scoring between 29 and 40 1/2 points, it was a solid team effort that made the fine record possible.

The varsity women's basketball team finished its regular season with a 10-6 record, and an 8-2 tournament record. Seeded number one in the Virginia Federation of Intercollegiate Sports for Women State Basketball Tournament in the small college bracket, the Eaglettes defeated Mary Baldwin, Eastern Mennonite, and Virginia State to win Bridgewater's first State Championship. While depending on their press and aggressive defense, the women gained their top position through balanced scoring from all the players.

The women's field hockey team finished its regular season with an 8-3-2 record. In post-season play the team attended the Blue Ridge Tournament and defeated Lynchburg, Roanoke, and Madison to advance to the Regional Tournament at Mary Washington. The women lost to William and Mary and the University of Kentucky, bringing the season to a close with a final record of 11-4-2.

The 1976 women's lacrosse team was the first B.C. lacrosse team to complete the season undefeated, finishing with a record of 10-0-1. Eleven players were chosen for post-season competition at the Southeastern Regional Tournament. Three women were selected from that tournament to take part in the National Championships held late in May at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania. They were Susan Bilhimer, Donna Nichols, and Charlotte Beahm.

The varsity men's basketball team had a disappointing 11-15 record, but one individual player, Tom Wright, closed out a fine 4-year career with 1447 points and 1112 rebounds. During the past year he averaged 21.8 points and 13.7 rebounds per game.

In baseball the Eagles finished the season with a 9-11 record. Senior catcher Ken Utterback hit .439 for the season and finished with a 4-year career batting average of .321. He was named All-VCAA three years in a row and was one of two unanimous selections to the first team. Jeff Gianakos led the team with 19 runs batted in while compiling a .389 average.

In other athletic activity, the men's tennis team finished the season with 8 wins and 5 losses, the second best showing in the school's history. Senior Tom Wright led at the No. 2 singles position with a record of 11 and 2. The women closed out the 5-7 tennis season with a loss to Virginia Tech, following four consecutive wins, the last over Mount St. Mary's, 9-0. Eileen Waterhouse held the best individual statistics with an even 6-6. The golf team finished with a 2-6 record, with Dave Wood the individual leader with an 81.5 average score.

At the end of the year Bridgewater became a charter member of the Old Dominion Athletic Conference, a new conference composed of private liberal arts colleges with similar athletic philosophies and policies.

Faculty

In addition to their roles as teachers and advisors, faculty members engage in numerous activities contributing to their professional development and to the advancement of their fields. Following are representative examples of activities and accomplishments of Bridge-water faculty members during the past academic year.

Fine Arts

John G. Barr, Associate Professor of Organ and Piano, presented an organ recital in January, playing from "The Little Organ Book," a collection of chorale preludes arranged by J. S. Bach from German Lutheran hymn tunes. He is a candidate for the Doctor of Sacred Music degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and this recital was in partial fulfillment of degree requirements.

Paul M. Kline, Chairman of the Art Department, had a wood construction carving, "One-on-One," accepted in the Roanoke Fine Arts Center Juried Artists Exhibition. The work was one of 89 selected from 316 entries on display at the Center in November. He also had four works in an invitational exhibition at the Fredericksburg (Va.) Gallery of Art in November and December. In January he had a one-man exhibit of recent work at the Library Gallery at Eastern Mennonite College in Harrisonburg.

Robert E. Purvis, Associate Professor of Art, constructed two totems, commissioned by the Harrisonburg Department of Parks and Recreation as symbols for the Delaware Day Camp located in Hillandale Park. One was completed in July, 1975, and the other in the summer of 1976. Professor Purvis worked with poplar and pine, choosing animals native to the Eastern United States, in creating a sculpture in the form of Northwestern tribal art.

Humanities

In June, Charles J. Churchman, Associate Professor of English, took part in "The Wilderness in American Literature," a workshop in the San Juan Range of the Colorado Rockies, sponsored by the English Department of the State University of New York at Potsdam. The nine-day backpacking expedition took the group into the wildest and most remote areas of the Rockies at altitudes over 10,000 feet. Prior to the workshop readings were required which dealt with man and his relationship with the West and the wilderness experience.

Roger E. Sappington, Professor of History, completed the compiling and editing of a new book, The Brethren in the New Nation, published by the Brethren Press in Elgin, Illinois, in July. The 500-page source book contains original materials related to the history of the Brethren from 1785 to 1865. Dr. Sappington, an authority on

Church of the Brethren history, has written seven books, as well as having contributed chapters and articles to religious and historical journals.

Sciences

L. Michael Hill, Associate Professor of Biology, contributed an article to the journal of the Southern Appalachian Botanical Club, CASTANEA. The article, published in June, is the result of his research on Aster acuminatus, the Southern or whorled aster in the Southern Appalachians. His research has been carried out over the past two years with the support of the Virginia Academy of Science and the Society of Sigma Xi. Dr. Hill received an additional grant in May from the Virginia Academy to further pursue his research activities.

During the summer of 1975, Frederick G. Keihn, Professor of Chemistry, participated in a three-week institute on Biological Applications of Radiation conducted by the Special Training Division of Oak Ridge Associated Universities. Dr. Keihn was especially interested in updating his understanding of x-ray radiation in order to have optimum preparation for his continuing work with students interested in the radiation effects on biological systems.

Lowell V. Heisey, Chairman of the Chemistry Department, addressed the Virginia Section of the American Chemical Society at its September meeting in Richmond. Dr. Heisey, recipient of the Society's 1975 Distinguished Service Award, spoke on "Chemistry and Cosmology."

William L. Mengebier, Chairman of the Biology Department, spent the winter term on a sabbatical leave engaged in research at the Bermuda Biological Station on St. George's Island. A paper describing the result of his research was published in the English Journal of Comparative Biochemistry and Physiology. Dr. Mengebier was elected to serve as a member of the Corporation of the Bermuda Biological Station for Research by the Trustees at their annual meeting in New York City in April.

As president of the Statistics Section of the Virginia Academy of Science, John E. White, Associate Professor of Mathematics, also held the position of president of the Virginia chapter of the American Statistical Association. In this position he also served as a member of the council of the American Statistical Association and attended the national meetings in Atlanta in August, 1975.

Theodore W. Flory, Manager of the C. E. Shull Computing Center, attended a meeting of COMMON, an organization of IBM computer users in Houston, Texas, in October. He was a member of a panel which discussed disc system input for the IBM 1130 computer. As chairman of the seminar committee, Mr. Flory also arranged an 8-hour seminar on "Smorgasbord," the name given to the library of user-contributed programs that is available to the membership. He also attended a COMMON meeting in Montreal on April 25-28, and was chairman of a session on "IBM 1130 Macro Assembler," and spoke on the 1130 Smorgasbord libraries.

Social Science

Emmert F. Bittinger, Professor of Sociology, completed research for an article pertaining to Church of the Brethren history of the years 1850-1925 for publication in the anniversary issue of the Church of the Brethren journal, the Messenger.

W. Steve Watson, Jr., Assistant Professor of Philosophy and Religion, has been awarded a Mednick Memorial Fund grant to assist him in the writing of his dissertation which he is completing to meet the requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree in philosophy and religion under the auspices of Emory University.

Donald R. Witters, Associate Professor of Psychology, acted as a consultant to the staff at the DeJarnette Center for Human Development in Staunton, during the summer of 1975. Dr. Witters supervised a practicum for Bridgewater College students during the summer, and again in the summer of 1976, in Applied Behavior Analysis.

Campus Events

Lectures and Concerts

On September 30, Dr. Huston C. Smith, Professor of Religion and Adjunct Professor of Philosophy at Syracuse University, gave the Sixth Annual Herbert W. K. Fitzroy Memorial Lecture in Bridgewater's Cole Hall. This lecture, presented under the auspices of the University Center in Richmond, is given each year at a different member college.

In January, Dr. Ernest Gordon, Dean of the Chapel at Princeton University and author of Through the Valley of the Kwai, spent several days on campus as the Staley Distinguished Christian Scholar. The theme of his series of Focus Week lectures was "A Prisoner Set Free!"

Bridgewater's affiliation with the University Center in Virginia brought a number of distinguished professors to the campus. Selected by member colleges for outstanding contributions in their fields of specialization, these lecturers supplement the College's curriculum offerings by their visits. Among the Center's scholars visiting Bridgewater during the past year were Dr. Samuel Adler, Professor of Composition at the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester; Dr. Eugene Odum, Distinguished Professor of Zoology, University of Georgia; Ramachandra B. Magal, Program Officer for the U.S. Educational Foundation in India; and Dr. Eric M. Rogers, Professor of Physics, Princeton University.

A wide variety of convocation and lyceum programs was presented during the year. They included touring theatrical companies, symphony orchestras, folk singers, several lecturers from Great Britain, and films on wide-ranging topics varying from "Birth Without Violence," to "The Lost World of the Mayas." Student performers, musicians, and speakers were also featured in the convocation programs.

Special Programs

For the second year, a student-to-student counseling program was a part of freshman orientation. Developed to give the first-year student a head start on his college life, it provides academic and personal-social counseling by carefully selected upperclass students.

On October 31, on the occasion of the President's Dinner, honoring members of the Benefactors and Investors Giving Clubs, Dr. William L. Brown addressed the assembly on the causes and possible solutions to the world hunger problem. Dr. Brown, a 1936 graduate of Bridgewater, is President of Pioneer International, Inc., in Des Moines, Iowa, and a distinguished geneticist who has established research stations, chiefly connected with commercial hybrid corn, throughout the Midwest.

During the year Bridgewater was designated a Bicentennial College. Many of the College programs, the theme for Homecoming and May Day, the Colonial Dinner, and the topics of a number of speakers reflected the Bicentennial theme. The Colonial Dinner, sponsored by the Kline Campus Center Program Council, was a gala affair. Satirical sketches by the Pinion Players, music by the chorale, recorders, and other instruments, and costumed student waiters and waitresses with the traditional menu and decorations, made it an enjoyable and memorable event.

One of the most notable occasions was the Founders Day celebration in April. Dr. Arlo L. Schilling, educational consultant and former president of North Central College in Naperville, Illinois, addressed the student morning convocation on the clarification of values and convictions. He also spoke at the evening dinner occasion to which all members of the College giving clubs were invited.

Cynthia C. Wedel, National Chairperson of Volunteers for the American National Red Cross and one of the six presidents of the World Council of Churches, spoke at Commencement, May 30. Mrs. Wedel was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Bridgewater for her contributions in many areas of the life of the church. Professor-emeritus Nelson T. Huffman was also awarded an honorary degree during the commencement exercises. Bridgewater bestowed upon him the honorary Doctor of Music degree for his contributions to the College and community in the field of music. David G. Metzler, Chaplain and member of the philosophy and religion department, was baccalaureate speaker.

A handsome replica of the college seal, a gift of the 1976 senior class, was prominently displayed above the speakers' platform during commencement. A thoughtful and attractive gift, it will be used often.

Continuing Education

Dr. L. Richard Meeth, Associate Professor of Higher Education at the State University of New York and author of Quality Education for Less Money, addressed the faculty on the "Challenge to Liberal Arts" at the opening faculty meetings of the 1975-76 year. Mr. Thomas Little, Program Manager of the Virginia Internship Program, spoke on career development for students in internship positions.

Colonial Dinner

Conrad Teitell

The Spiritual Life Institute in early February provided a stimulating spiritual respite for pastors and laypersons, giving them the opportunity to gain new insights and approaches and renew acquaintances with old friends. Dr. Douglas Adams, Professor of American Religions at the University of Montana, portrayed both a colonial and a 19th century minister. Dressed in the garb of their day, he delivered his sermons in the manner in which they might have been delivered originally, often outspoken and humorous in their attacks on the evils and political systems with which they were familiar. Dr. Edmund A. Steimle, a nationally-known radio speaker and former Union Seminary (N.Y.) professor, opened the Institute with a seminar for pastors and presented a thoughtful and helpful series on the meaning, contents, and form of the sermon. Also speaking at the Institute were the Rev. Merle Crouse, Florida and Puerto Rico District Executive of the Church of the Brethren, and Dr. Roger Sappington, Bridgewater College professor and authority on Church of the Brethren history.

In May, Bridgewater College in cooperation with a number of area banks sponsored a seminar on "Philanthropy, Taxation, and Estate Planning" conducted by Conrad Teitell, author and well-known lecturer on tax-encouraged giving and estate planning. Over 75 bank trust officers, lawyers, accountants, and others involved in the management of charitable gifts, were in attendance to hear Mr. Teitell discuss the new tax rules for charitable gifts, the proposed changes in the federal estate and gift tax laws, and how to plan in contemplation of them.

At its spring meeting, the Board of Trustees approved a program providing for a fifty percent reduction in tuition and audit fees for persons 50 years of age or older. It was also decided that persons 65 years of age or older would be permitted to audit classes for a nominal charge when space is available. This will enable area residents to continue former educational interests or find new ones.

A six-week course in English literature taught by Dr. James J. Kirkwood was offered once a week during evenings in the spring. This non-credit course attracted persons whose enjoyment of literature brought them together in a lively exchange of ideas and viewpoints.

Plant Development

As the 1975-76 fiscal year was drawing to a close, Bridgewater received a grant that will make possible the installation of terminal facilities linking the Alexander Mack Memorial Library to the SOLINET system in Atlanta, Georgia, the Ohio College Library Center in Columbus, Ohio, and their affiliates of several hundred libraries. This $8,000 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation for the use of the library will chiefly aid in the cataloging process and in facilitating inter-library loans.

During the year the art department facilities were expanded by enclosing the patio area adjacent to Rebecca Hall, more than doubling the existing studio space. A valuable feature of the room is the combination of fluorescent, incandescent, and natural lighting, which is proving to be of great benefit to the art students.

Facts on Finance – The 1975-76 Year

While inflation had continuing adverse effects on portions of the 1975-76 budget, the College continued to operate within available resources. An analysis of the operating statement for the year ended June 30, 1976, and of the balance sheet as of June 30, 1976, reveals that the excellent support provided the College by its constituencies has again made possible a sound fiscal operation as well as an excellent program in private higher education. The ability of the College to maintain its tradition of operating on a balanced budget was due in no small measure to the generous and increasing annual fund and unrestricted gift support of its constituencies.

The net worth of the College increased by over $450,000 during the twelve-month period. Since the assets of the College including its physical facilities and its endowment investments are carried on the books at acquisition costs rather than at current market prices and/or insurable values, the actual worth of the total of the College's assets is substantially more than shown in the balance sheet even in this period of somewhat depressed values in the securities markets.

Volunteer Leadership

Bridgewater College is fortunate to be aided in many significant ways by numerous volunteers. Dedicated to the strengthening of the College, these men and women continue to display the leadership, enthusiasm, and imagination necessary to maintain the successful operation of this institution and to insure its progress.

8 by '80

Under the direction of James L. Keeler, '57, National Chairman of the $8 million First Century Completion Fund, the 8 by '80 committees have been working diligently and well during the past year. These efforts have resulted in marked increases in gift income. By using both mailings and personal visits, committee members have increased awareness of Bridgewater's needs and have successfully involved greater numbers of its constituency in the advancement of the College.

The Alumni Gifts Committee, under the chairmanship of W. Wallace Hatcher, '55, President of Lantz Construction Company, headed the successful 1975-76 Alumni Giving Program that exceeded its $120,000 goal, an increase of more than $25,000 over last year's total cash contributions from alumni. Part of the success experienced in increased alumni contributions can be attributed to the willing efforts of the class chairmen. Letters from classmates often provide the incentive and encouragement that builds support.

Under chairman Frank C. Rittenhouse, '36, President of Aluminex, Inc. of Timonium, Maryland, the Church Gifts Committee has stimulated increased support for current operations from that source. In addition to encouraging greater contributions from local churches, the Committee has been recruiting representatives within congregations to facilitate communications and cooperation between the College and the churches it serves.

Members of the Estate Planning Committee with Harold H. Hersch, '51, a Manassas, Virginia, attorney, as chairman have been providing valuable assistance to the College by promoting the importance of charitable contributions as a way of making lasting and worthwhile investments.

Membership in the Sustainers, Investors, and Benefactors Giving Clubs grew significantly during the past fiscal year largely due to the conscientious efforts of the Giving Clubs Committee. Under the leadership of Garland F. Miller, '33, President of Dominion Manufacturing Company of Bridgewater, the program raised $100,217 from 455 participants. Since their establishment in 1969, the giving clubs have continued to grow and have provided vital leadership to the College's contributed support.

The Major Gifts Committee, chaired by William H. Groseclose, Executive Vice President, Rockingham National Bank, Harrisonburg, has taken significant steps in laying the groundwork for the support of major projects in the development program.

A successful effort was recorded by the Parents' Gifts Committee, under the leadership of G. Arnold Cronk, Vice President for Scientific Affairs of Ortho Pharmaceuticals Co. in Princeton, New Jersey. The committee has helped make parents aware of the financial needs of the College beyond that portion covered by tuition and has emphasized the importance of parent participation in meeting these costs. Parents responded with more than double the gift support of the preceding year.

Local Business and Professional Campaign

In November a 30-minute television program produced by WVPT-TV was aired at the start of the local business and professional campaign on behalf of the College to increase community support. Panelists James Keeler, Managing Partner in the Harrisonburg accounting firm of Keeler, Phibbs & Co.; Phillip Stone, partner in the law firm of Wharton, Aldhizer & Weaver; and O. M. Porterfield, Jr., President of Planters Bank of Bridgewater and chairman of the local campaign, discussed with WVPT Station Manager Richard Parker their reasons for encouraging enlarged support for Bridgewater in its current development effort. Funds totaling a record $25,000 were generated through the work of 65 business and professional volunteers.

New Trustees

Four new trustees were elected to the Board at its fall meeting: George E. Bryan, Dayton, Va.; Cletus E. Houff, Weyers Cave, Va.; Ira D. Layman, Daleville, Va.; and Phillip C. Stone, Harrisonburg, Va.

Mr. Bryan is vice president and a member of the executive committee of Wampler Foods, Inc. Mr. Houff is President of Houff Transfer and one of its organizers. President and general manager of the Roanoke and Botetourt Telephone Company, Mr. Layman is also past president of the Virginia Independent Telephone Association. Mr. Stone is a partner with the Wharton, Aldhizer, and Weaver Law Firm of Harrisonburg.

Dr. Carman G. Blough of Bridgewater was elected an Honorary Trustee, and J. Lee Mullendore was elected to the status of Life Trustee. Dr. Blough retired in 1961 from his position as Research Director of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and, with his wife, the former Katherine Flory, '17, is a resident of Bridgewater. Mr. Mullendore is President of Hagerstown Lumber Company and was first elected to the Bridgewater Board in 1960.

Alumni Association

Violet Siron Cox, '59, ably served as Alumni Association President during the year, turning over the office to Phillip Stone, '65, at the Alumni Day dinner, May 29. Other Association officers for the 1975-76 year were Doris Harsh, '61, Secretary, and Greg Geisert, '72, Treasurer. Elected to hold office during the 1976-77 year were Dr. Fred Diehl, '60, President-elect; Doris Harsh and Greg Geisert were re-elected; and Al Whitelow, '61, and Mary Hooker Weybright, '54, were elected as Directors-at-large. The assistance of local chapter officers has been invaluable, as they have scheduled chapter meetings and arranged telethons and prospective student receptions.

Alumni Day in the spring has been specially set aside for alumni activities including alumni reunion luncheons and the alumni dinner during which time the Distinguished Alumnus award is presented to an alumnus for outstanding contributions to Bridgewater College and to his or her vocational field. On Alumni Day, May 29, 1976, C. E. May, '24, Professor-emeritus of English, received the Distinguished Alumnus award. Professor May, the author of a recent book, Life Under Four Flags in the North River Basin of Virginia, has long been active in civic affairs and has had a profound influence on many generations of students while a member of the Bridgewater College faculty.

Alumni reunion luncheons are held on Alumni Day each spring for classes in their 25th year of reunion and earlier. The one, five, ten, and twenty year classes are on schedule to return for Homecoming each year in the fall. The class of 1926 had a gala 50th reunion in May, with a good number of the class back for the occasion.

Parents' Advisory Committee

Members of the Parents' Advisory Committee were on hand at the reception held for new students and their parents at the beginning of school. Under co-chairmen Ralph and Jean Hollenberg, they visited the campus again later in the fall, assisting with Parents' Day and attending the annual meeting of the committee. Committee members also worked with the College in arranging receptions for prospective students. The College is deeply grateful for the work done by this committee.

Numerous alumni and friends throughout the year have assisted the College in many ways — arranging for and helping with area telethons, prospective student receptions, alumni meetings, development efforts, and welcoming groups of touring students into their homes. Bridgewater College faculty, staff, and students value these gifts of time, talents, hospitality, and resources, and realize that the College needs and depends on the strength such commitment brings.

First Century Completion Fund

The total amount committed to the 8 by '80 development program as of the close of the College's fiscal year on June 30, 1976, was $2,276,929.80 in cash and pledges. The major portion of 8 by '80 money will be directed to the support of the educational program — current operations, including student financial aid, faculty salaries, book acquisitions, etc. — and the building of the endowment fund. Gifts to 8 by '80, along with some transferred holdings, increased the amount of the endowment fund by more than $150,000 during the past year, from $1,638,162 to $1,808,089. The income from these funds can be made immediately available for use in the operating budget and for increased student financial aid. Increasing the endowment to a total of three million by 1980 is a Completion Fund objective.

Several projects involving repair and renovations to existing facilities have been made possible through gifts to the current Bridgewater College development effort. By enclosing the outside patio of Rebecca Hall, an addition to the art department was completed in time for use during the winter term of 1975-76. This useful area greatly increased studio and storage space for the department. Additional student parking space has been developed across Dinkel Avenue from Heritage Hall. During the 1975-76 year the Alumni Gymnasium and Bowman Hall, as well as several residences received new roofs, and the exterior trim of all the older college buildings on the south side of College Street were given fresh coats of paint.

Many challenges lie ahead. Major renovations and new construction included in the 8 by '80 projections have not yet been begun. We are on schedule, but much remains to be done to assure that we shall celebrate our first 100 years in good health and prepared to meet the challenges of the years to come.

CORPORATE SUPPORT THROUGH THE VFIC

The contributions reported in the body of this report as coming to the college through the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges represent Bridgewater's share of the proceeds from the cooperative efforts of twelve of Virginia's private colleges and many hard-working leaders of the Virginia business community. Other colleges sharing in the VFIC contributions are Emory and Henry, Hampden-Sydney, Hollins, Lynchburg, Mary Baldwin, Randolph-Macon, Randolph-

Macon Woman's College, Roanoke, Sweet Briar, Richmond, and Washington and Lee.

Although, because of space limitations, the listing of contributors published annually in the brochures of the Virginia Foundation is not repeated here, Bridgewater College acknowledges with gratitude the support of the firms affiliated with the VFIC effort as well as their concern for maintaining and improving a productive private sector in higher education.
